Ok, so your New Year's resolution was to start a prayer magazine and you haven't started yet. There's still time! Or maybe you just want to spend a quieter time with the Lord, but you really don't know where to start? Help! We've put together some of our favorite prayer magazine ideas to help you get started. If you're like me, sometimes it's hard to add something new to your routine, even when it's something you really want to do. I've journaled on and off over the years, and when I started, I basically focused on negative things in my life that I just needed to tell someone. I spent years begging and pleading with the Lord to do something for me or bring dreams. It was so good for me to get it all out of my head and on paper, but I never got anywhere until I started applying the word to my way of thinking and let it change me. Getting a prayer magazine is a great way to organize and start following all the great things God is going to do through you! How to use a prayer journal: Have you ever wondered how to use a prayer journal? There are many different ways to add a prayer journal to your prayer life. But I have found that there are some important elements that make this special time that we spend with the Lord truly effective and leave us feeling empowered by Him, heard by Him and loved by Him. Prayerful logging is an act of worshipping our Lord for how amazing he is and how wonderful it is simply to be His children! Learn how to organize a prayer journal below to get started! Find all the beautiful stuff (Start with the magazine you love!) I find that I'm much more excited to stick to something when I have a good magazine, calendar or stationery to work with. I love colored pens, highlighters and sticky notes to add to my magazines (Gimmie all school supplies!) you can choose to use tabs or bullet points to organize sections of the prayer log, or you can choose a pre-made magazine against the DIY prayer magazine route. Either way, you can make it beautiful! Along with this, I would recommend finding a space where you can enjoy writing and spending a quiet time. For me, anywhere that is free from the distraction of the day (to-do lists, piles of laundry, etc.) where I can sip coffee (the quiet time it takes for me!) and I love a place where I can see outside or look at my plants and enjoy God's creation while I'm a prayer magazine. We have a lovely new managed prayer journal to help you get started! Blake lovingly designed this journal, which contains scripture references and plenty of room for reflection and prayer. Handwritten illustrations and scripture projects specifically designed so you can know Him more. How to organize prayer log sections If you start from scratch with the DIY Prayer Journal, here are some different headlines you can use in your diary, or various sections that you can include. Pray the word - I think that an important part of this process is to find answers in the Word of God. The Lord has endeared us with the blood of Christ with so many things. Whether you are praying for your children, your husband, for healing, or for your finances, there is a scripture that can be applied. When we use the word and talk about life in those situations and use the power Christ has given us, the Lord can move. Perhaps the most important advantage for prayerful logging is that we restore our minds to what the Lord thinks of us and our situations and allows His word to encourage us! This is a pledge to have not just a diary, but something powerful and life-changing. Psalm 119:105 Your word is a lamp for my feet, a light in my path. Write what's on your heart - Be honest! The Lord wants us to communicate with Him and share with Him what is in our hearts. The Daily Prayer Journal is a great way to do just that! He is our Father and our friend and just like any other friendship, communication is key. He loves us to draw wisdom from Him and draw from His peace! He called us His friends, and he is a trusted confidant! List what you're grateful for - That's my favorite! When you set up your prayer log, consider adding a section where you can list what you're grateful for. When I started actively listing things every day that I was grateful for, I could see a change in my attitude and mood immediately. It's impossible not to feel grateful when we focus on the wonderful things we do, not what we don't have. The good things that happened today there is a power of listing all the good things that happened on the day. It is so helpful for me to focus on what went right and where the Lord has already blessed me. Recording everything down also teaching your brain to find diamonds every day, however mundane it may seem! Philippians 4:8 Finally, brothers and sisters, whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is beautiful, whatever is wonderful—if something is different or deserving of praise—think of it. Prayers the Lord answered today Remember the prayers He answered - The great chapter you might include in your prayer journal or daily prayer journal is that you can keep records of all the prayers the Lord has answered. The Lord says to remember the miracles He has done! It is so easy for us to forget all the prayers, great and small, that He answered for us. He is such a good Father, and it is strange to look back and see how He has led us through difficult times and times of uncertainty. Psalm 105:4-6 Look upon the Lord and his power; look for your face always. Remember the miracles he did, his miracles, and the sentences he delivered, you, his servants, the descendants of Abraham, his elected officials, the children of Jacob. Dream with the Holy Ghost – Just as the Lord always speaks to us, He wants us to with Him about the future. The Lord has put desire in our hearts, and He can do immaturely more than we could ask or think, and He always wants us to have great goals! First of all, we are the children of the King who loves us, and He wants us to be in life! Record what God says to you – Prayer Journal is a great place to keep what God whispers to your heart so that only you hear. He always talks to us if we're only willing to be still listening. This is the place in your journal where you can write a scripture or promise from God and then ask the Lord how to practically apply it to your life. He will always speak practically and lovingly to help us know what to say or how to respond to situations we pray for. He tells us so well how to respond to our husband, or what to say to our child who is having a hard time, or even how to solve the problem! The goals to set out of your prayer journal to track your prayers for one year set a reminder for yourself to give yourself the grace to give yourself the grace of giving in your prayer log every day is wonderful! But you know what's also great? Writing in your prayer journal when you can! God is so gracious and never disrespects us for missing a day (or a week!) of magazines. He wants us to spend time in His word and His presence because He loves us and knows how well we can renew our minds in time we have spent with Him. Spending time in prayer and word is a discipline that we must exercise and when we do, it will become easier to do naturally, and during the day we walked with the Lord. We hope that these prayer study tips will inspire you to start your own and, most importantly, just spend more time with the Lord! Writing and magazines can be such a great therapy and a way to stay focused on God's promises and practically implement them in your life. When you start writing and thinking through these points of a prayer journal, it will help you start dreaming again, bible study, and you will realize how much you should be grateful for! Remember the miracles he did, his miracles, and the sentences he delivered (1 Chronicles 16:11-12). Prayer logging is a way of dialogue daily with God so that we can remember what and how God speaks to us. Here are some key ways to do this: Start writing – There are as many ways you can log. God will give you creativity. Some examples are prayers, poetry, your dreams, goals, burdens, delights, joys, scriptures, songs, letters, or whatever God tells you. Magazine regularly, but not out of duty – you can magazine daily, weekly, or as often as you like. It's really up to you. It is important not to look at prayer logging as a heavy burden or duty. This is a friend and will help you in life, not weigh you with another responsibility. Record prayer requests and date them - You can look back at how God answered your prayers. It will build your faith in prayer. It will also remind you of queries that need more backing. Record God's answers to your prayers - My husband recorded answering prayer while living abroad, and he saw God faithfully answering his prayer requests. It is a testimony of God's kindness. Keep track of the progress you make in your spiritual life - I always look back in my prayer diaries and see me develop spiritually from year to year. It helps me so much to see the spiritual progress in my life and the way God works. Write what God tells you – It is important that you can look at your diary during quiet seasons in your spiritual life. Ask yourself: How does God personally reveal Himself to me? Write key Bible verses that speak to you during prayer - God will guide and help you in important decision-making times with scripture. Prayer logging will help you see real growth in your life because you bring to God what concerns you. Through your journal, you will see your life more clearly through the eyes of God. He has so much to say when we give Him time and look for His face. It is important to write it down and not miss the wisdom He wants to share with us. I believe you will find it to be an indispensable blessing in your prayerful and devoted life. This is a 7-minute study to help you learn the key ways of a prayer diary. Watch the video titled: How to Pray Magazine. I will remember the lord's lord's lords; Yes, I will remember your miracles a long time ago. I meditate on all your work and consider all your powerful leaders. Your ways, O God, are holy (Psalm 77:11-13a).
